VOLUME LIV — UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1921 — NUMBER 13

LOCAL ATTORNEY DIRECTOR OF TAX REDUCTION LEAGUE

Atty. Hale McCowen, Jr., of the firm of Thomas, McCowen & Thomas, of this city, has been elected as one of the directors of the new Tax Reduction League, an organization having for its purpose the reduction of taxes by cutting down the cost of municipal, county, state and national government. The president of the organization is J. O. Davis, of San Francisco.

In its statement, the League says: "Excessive taxation represents the extravagance of the organized minority indulged at the expense of the unorganized majority. Organized economy is the only weapon with which organized extravagance can be routed."

California's annual tax bill is $380,000,000, or more than $1,040,000 a day. The cost of state government alone has climbed from eighteen millions for the two years of 1907-09 to ninety-one millions for the two years of 1921-22.

The only hope of relief lies with the taxpayers themselves and the Leaugue's purpose is to organize them.

HERE FOR VISIT

Mrs. W. D. Lias, of South Dakota, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Yates, arrived home the latter part of last week from South Dakota, and will spend some time here visiting relatives and friends. She has been living in South Dakota the past two years, and says that dear old Ukiah is a welcome sight once more.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Ed. Boyle, woods superintendent for the Mendocino Lumber Company for many years, submitted to an operation for hernia at the St. Francis hospital in San Francisco the latter part of last week. The operation proved rather a diffcult one but Mr. Boyle is reported to be getting along nicely and will probably be able to return home shortly.—Beacon.

Local Man Called for Expert Testimony

Sydney Smith, son of County Surveyor Edgar Smith, and himself recognized as one of the best surveyors and timber cruisers in the state, left for Portland, Oregon, last Wednesday to give expert testimony in a big lawsuit in the Oregon courts over a tract of timber land. This is not the first time that Syd has been called on where the services of an expert were desired, but it is a big feather in his cap to be called to Oregon, indicating that his fame has spread beyond the boundaries of his native state.

RINGHAM UNDER BOND

A. W. Ringham, who was arrested and charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, was admitted to bail in the sum of $1000 by Judge Hurley last Wednesday.

His bail was arranged by Roy Nelson and Jim Cleveland.

The maximum temperature this week was 55 and the minimum 35.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Boyd, of Calpella, Dec. 28.

Jack Goss, Jr., motored to San Rafael last Saturday to spend Christmas with friends, returning home Monday evening.

Miss Evelyn Johnson spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. C. A. LeBaron, of Valley Ford, Sonoma county.

LATER REPORTS ON WATER CO. CASE

Later reports on the case of Hudson vs. the Ukiah Water & Improvement Co., which was decided by the supreme court last week, make the case look much better for Mrs. Hudson. While the case was reversed, the validity of Mrs. Hudson's water right was upheld and it only remains to settle the amount of water she is entitled to. This will probably be settled by a stipulation between the parties, rather than by a new trial.

The case also disposes of two other similar controversies in this city, one being over a water right enjoyed by the old G. W. Gibson property at the head of Standley street and the other the Ed Layman property on Perkins street.

SERVICE MEN WELL TREATED

The ex-service men at the state hospital were well remembered over Christmas. The Legion gave money and the auxiliary provided home-made candies, cakes, etc.; the Red Cross and the people and clubs of Ukiah contributed liberally, The Press raised a fund and purchased two phonographs and a large number of records, and the Legion and Auxiliary of Eureka sent a box of various articles. Patrons of the Ukiah public library presented the men with two boxes of books and magazines.

The Senior class play was put on in the auditorium for the benefit of the service men.

Four phonographs any many records were donated by the Knights of Columbus, which order also gave basketball, volleyball and baseball outfits.

Lake County Sheriff Wins Damage Suit

LAKEPORT, Dec. 27.—A jury in the Lake county superior court brought in a verdict Friday night in favor of Sheriff B. F. Shaul and his bonding company in the suit brought by Mrs. Marie Diener for $6300 damages alleged to have been sustained in the destruction by the sheriff of 600 gallons of wine.

The value of the wine was alleged to be $2100, $1200 for expenses undertaken in the matter, and $3000 for mental suffering.

The confiscation resulted from the conviction of Ernest Diener, son of plaintiff, in December, 1920, for illegal selling of wine under the county ordinance, for which he paid a $350 fine imposed by Justice Page.

The prosecution sought to prove that the written consent of Mrs. Diener to destruction of the wine, at the time, was obtained by the sheriff through duress or intimidation. Mrs. Diener in the complaint claimed to be owner of the wine.

Evidence brought out was that Sheriff Shaul presented the written consent to Ernest Diener and advised him to explain it to his mother. Diener talked to his mother in German, and she signed the paper. The jury evidently believed there was no fraud or coercion in the sheriff's act of carrying out the justice court's orders.

Mr. Elder has filled the office for the past seven years, having been elected in 1914 and again in 1918. He has made a capable official and under his administration the work of the office has been kept up as it never was before. Every days' instruments are put on the records before Mr. Elder and his very efficient deputy, Mrs. Elder, leave the office at night, and the promptness and courtesy with which the work has been carried on have earned the couple the praise and good will of all who have any dealings with the recorder.

Mrs. Sam Ray, who recently leased the Langland hospital, is having it renovated. A new schedule of prices has been adopted

ED WRIGHT AND WIFE REUNITED AFTER YEARS

Ed Wright returned last Friday from a trip East, where he met his wife, who had been missing for many years, and whom he and all their friends thought dead until a few months ago. Mrs. Wright left Mendocino county some twenty years ago and after she arrived in San Francisco all trace of her was lost. NEW MANAGER TO TAKE UKIAH FARMERS' CLUB

The directors of the Ukiah Farmers' Club met last evening to pick a successor for C. A. Bernhard as manager of the corporation.

It was generally rumored that Harry Shimmin was to be the choice of the directors, and it is assumed that he was chosen, although this could not be confirmed at the time the Dispatch-Democrat went to press last evening.

The new manager is to take charge Tuesday, although Mr. Bernhard will remain with the club for a month to help the new man get started.

Mr. Bernhard has been identified with the organization ever since it started in 1911, and was largely instrumental in organizing it. He had occupied the position of manager continuously from the first. Originally started as a cooperative buying organization for the farmers of Ukiah and vicinity, it maintained this purpose until a year ago, when it was organized as a corporation.

Mr. Bernhard retires with the goodwill of all and it is with genuine regret that his friends view his withdrawal. He will engage in real estate and insurance business here.

His successor, Mr. Shimmin, has been manager of the Irvine & Muir Company's store at Potter valley for many years. He is a genial, capable executive and is well liked by the people of Potter and that he will be successful in his new position goes without saying.

BEN BARNET SUFFERING FROM ACCIDENT TO EYE

Trouble following an injury to his eye, suffered in an automobile accident on the state highway below Hopland several weeks ago, will necessitate a visit to specialists by Ben Barnet, well known local merchant. It was thought at first that the injury would not leave any lasting ill effects, but not only the eye hurt, but the other also, is being seriously affected and the attention of a specialist would seem to be necessary.

Lobree-Drew Case Settled This Week

The famous timber claim suit of Phil Lobree and associates, vs. F. C. Drew, representing the former L. E. White Lumber Company, was brought to a close this week with the payment to the plaintiff of approximately $10,000 in damages.

The suit has occupied the courts for the last three years, and was a very hard-fought legal battle. Robt. Duncan represented Lobree.

Lobree's associates in the case were Perry Bishop, Dr. Lane, Earn Fitch, and the late John Alexander.

It is understood that the dispute arose over the alleged refusal of Drew to pay the above named men for their timber claims after they had relinquished their hold on same so that Drew could get a title to the land, with the understanding that Drew was to pay them for the claims as soon as the matter was settled.

The claims were taken up on Alder Creek in early days.

FARM HOME BURNED

Fire last Monday evening destroyed the ranch home of Myras Howell south of the asylum. Mr. Howell managed to save some of the effects, but, being alone at the time, saved comparatively little. The electric lights had gone out and he lighted a lamp and set it on a table in the front room and went to milk. When he returned to the house it was to find the front room in flames. He believes a cat which was in the room, overturned the lamp.

PART OF TAX OFF

News From the Nation's Capitol

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—President Harding, in a message which reads as if it had been written by Mr. Harding himself, has told the first regular session of the Sixty-Seventh Congress what he thinks about the state of the Union, with the exception of the Newberry case, and what he expects of this session.

Imitating President Wilson, he read his message in person, and following in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor, he notified Congress that he would not obey its order abrogating all existing commercial treaties. He also followed in the footsteps of the Wilson administration in his revival of the proposal for the reclamation of arid lands to provide homes for soldiers.

The President administered a reprimand to the agricultural bloc, coupled with a plea for party unity on the ground that we have a party government, but ignored the plain fact that Republican dissenion in Congress is due to the autocratic spirit and dictatorial attitude of the reactionary, special privilege, solid ivory bloc.

His dissatisfaction with the Tax bill passed at the special session makes the dissatisfaction unanimous and it will be interesting to note what success he achieves when he comes back later, as he promises to do, with a special plea for a further reduction in the higher surtax for the benefit largely of profiteers.

President Harding's attempt to meet conditions in a way to justify the passing of a tariff law is almost pathetic. From a reactionary party standpoint, perhaps, it was tactful, but as far as affording any satisfactory solution of the tariff muddle it is as impotent as the tariff bill itself as it came from the hands of "Uncle Joe" Fordney.

His plan is to have Congress delegate its constitutional power to levy tariff taxes to the Executive, so that the taxes can be levied by himself in the form of an executive order, or a ukase, after the manner that legislation was promulgated in Russia in the days of the Czars. It would seem that many of the ideas of the Executive are largely dependent either upon a change of the Constitution or the delegation of constitutional authority or ignoring the Constitution entirely for their application.

The suggestion for a constitutional amendment to enable the taxing of State and municipal securities now exempt is of doubtful value, except perhaps as a political gesture, for the reason that in the belief of many three-fourths of the States which are able to market their securities satisfactorily largely because they are exempt from taxation would have to ratify the amendment. The suggestion that the States surrender another Constitutional right in a matter that affects the very fundamentals of our dual system of government will arouse more or less controversy. This is a matter that should be dealt with in a more practical manner and that will give promise of success on more equitable lines.

It may be assumed that a favorable reception will be given to the President's recommendation to appropriate for the Russian famine sufferers a sum sufficient to purchase 10,000,000 bushels of corn and 1,000,000 bushels of seed grain, although this is way below the estimate made by Governor Goodrich of Indiana, who has made a survey of the situation and who estimates it will take fifteen or twenty million bushels of corn and four or five million bushels of seed wheat to relieve 25,000,000 people.

The purchase of the corn and the seed grain for this worthy purpose would help the American farmer in getting rid of his surplus and would give relief in corresponding measure to the railroads which exact in freight rates a sum equal to the cost of raising the grain.

In contrast to President Harding's statement acknowledging "the really large volume and excellent quality of work accomplished by the extraordinary session of Congress which so recently adjourned" is the opinion expressed on the floor of the House just prior to the adjournment of the special session by a prominent Republican Congressman, William R. Wood, of Indiana:

"I know the very serious condition that is prevailing throughout the land. I am only speaking the truth when I say that the people of this country employed in every vocation and in every character of business are giving this Congress hell. They are doing it because we have done nothing to stimulate business. They are doing it because we have done nothing to give employment to the unemployed. They are doing it because we have done nothing to benefit the farmer and stimulate the price of the farmers' products."

Progressivism vs. Reactionaryism

The Sixty-Seventh Congress assembles for its first regular session under different circumstances from those at the beginning of the special session last April. Then always harmony, at least on the surface, within the Republican party, which had just regained power through the overthrow of America's moral leadership of the world and resultant economic chaos. But the fundamental differences which exist in that party and have existed since 1910, began to reappear when the reactionary element, under whose leadership the victory was gained, undertook to make good its election promises to the privileged and predatory interests. Then it became apparent that the party lacked genuine solidarity; that it was merely a loose coalition resulting from the common desire to again gain control of the government.

The reactionary leadership, emboldened by its misunderstood victory, arrogantly began to put into effect a thoroughly reactionary programme, so far as it had a programme, and gave no more consideration to the views of the progressive element in its own party than it did to those of the minority party.

Ordinarily, the Progressives, for the sake of party traditions and party harmony would like to go along with the dominant wing of the party, but the Progressives have constitutents in the Western producing sections just as the reactionaries have their constituents in Wall street and the manufacturing section of the country. It so happens that these Western constituents stand for the same things the Democrats in Congress are advocating.

The Progressives heard from home, with the result that they adopted the Democratic amendments to the tax revision bill, and under threat of coalition with the Democrats, compelled the reactionary leadership to accept them, despite the fact that the Reactionaries appealed to President Harding, who came promptly to the relief of the Reactionaries with a letter, to which the Progressives gave no heed whatever.

It is plain that the Republican party outside of Congress is divided on the issue of Progressivism vs. Reactionaryism, and the melted butter phrases of the President's plea for harmony indicate how serious the issue is in Congress.

"Farmer Gritting His Teeth and Biding His Time."

The regular session of the Sixty-Seventh Congress opens with a well-defined cleavage between the Reactionaries and the Progressives. The latter know their strength and have had a fresh taste of victory.

That the Reactionaries will continue to dictate to them is apparent from that part of President Harding's message reprimanding them for joining with the Democrats in passing the Democratic amendments to the tax bill, and his plea for party harmony and party government.

But out in the West is an intelligent and watchful constituency which has been disillusioned on the tariff; which has lost or is losing faith in Republican promises of lower taxes and economical government; which is beginning to realize that the party in power does not understand the problems with which it has to deal and is incompetent therefore to solve them. Above all, it understands now as never before that it has no identical interests with the privileged and predatory classes who finance and control the reactionary element of the Republican party.

Just how the Western constituents feel about it is well expressed by a Western weekly paper, which says: "The farmer is gritting his teeth and biding his time."

Republican "Savings" and Deficiencies.

Congressman James F. Byrnes, of South Carolina, Democratic member of the Appropriations Committee, has again exposed the fake "savings" claimed by the reactionary Republicans in Congress. In a recent speech he said:

"But I want to comment for a minute upon the saving you were going to make; because the gentleman from Wyoming (Mr. Mondell) said you were going to make those savings, and when he says so you have to believe it. He told the President you were going to save $350,000,000 out of the appropriations for this year. He said that you were going to save $100,000,000 in the Navy. But the Navy asked for $27,000,000 in the way of a deficiency. Then they withdrew the estimate and said they would try and see if they could not reduce it by the time the regular session met in December.

The gentleman from Wyoming stated he was going to save $25,000,000 out of the appropriations for the Agricultural Department when the total appropriation was only $36,000,000. When I called attention to that, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Madden) stated that it was to be saved out of the road fund; but you know, and the country ought to know that instead of saving money out of the road fund since that time we have apportioned $100,000,000 to be spent in cooperation with the States in building public roads. So that instead of saving $25,000,000, we have appropriated an additional $100,000,000 since that time.

"Now as business men, how can we reconcile those statements? The gentleman from Wyoming said that in the Navy Department we would save $100,000,000. The total total amount appropriated on the building contracts was only $90,000,000, and if this conference on the limitation of armament is a success and we cancel the contracts, we all know that we have got to pay damages in addition to the amounts already spent, and there is not a chance on earth or saving $100,000,000 in the Navy appropriations. On the contrary, the department asked for $27,000,000 deficiency appropriations.

"I call attention to this because I make the prediction now that we will have at least two or three more deficiency bills, and unless there is a great change in the executive departments the deficiency bills of this Congress are going to amount to almost as much as any Congress prior to 1908 ever spent for all government purposes.

"Remember Lorimer," Warns Heflin.

One of the most eloquent and excoriating speeches made against the seating of Senator Truman H. Newberry was that of Senator J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama, who declared that it was "the most mysterious case ever considered by the Senate." Continuing, he said:

"The Lorimer case does not touch it. . . . Why they admit spending $200,000. . . . That is 52 times more than the state of Michigan permits, 19 times as much as the Federal statute permitted. . . . It is the general belief among many who were in close touch with that campaign that it cost anywhere from $250,000 to $500,000. Who said so? The Lieutenant Governor of Michigan, Gov. Dickinson, a Republican, said so in a letter to Mr. Newberry . . . and Mr. Newberry never denied a line of it. . . .

"The idea of trying to foist this thing upon the Senate and the American people, without testimony showing the innocence of this man, when we have here many pages of testimony containing straightforward recountal of facts and circumstances that connect him up with the campaign and tie him body and soul to its corrupt and scandalous conduct. . . .

"I recall the Lorimer case..... Those who voted for him, all of them but seven are gone.

"You may vote to seat this man; you may clothe him with a power to sit here and kill the vote of Senators who stand here with clean credentials. I do not know what your judgment will be; but, mark you, Senators, you are going to face these facts out in the states.

"Thank God there is a judgment bar where we can go with these terrible facts and submit them to the women and the men who constitute the electorate of America. If you vote to seat this man you are going to have to answer to an outraged and indignant people. So remember and when you vote to seat Mr. Newberry you may be voting to unseat yourselves."

The Searchlight Again Smashes the Reactionaries.

"The Old Guard and Their Tax Bill," is the title of another smashing attack upon the reactionary Republican element in control in Congress in the current issue of The Searchlight, under date of November 30, the Washington independent monthly published in the interest of good government. It contains much valuable data on the special session of Congress just adjourned, including statistics and record of votes. The Searchlight is not a Democratic publication nor a Republican publication, but it is doing the Democratic party and the Progressive wing of the Republican party and the whole country a great and permanent good by printing the truth about this reactionary Republican administration and the reactionary leaders of the Repulican party.

A Gem from the Congressional Record.

Congressman Longworth, (Rep., Ohio,) is speaking. Listen:

"The gentleman (Mr. Garner) has but one object in view. He is an adept at muddying the waters in order to attempt, as he always does, to drive a wedge which shall separate the cohesive majority on this side of the House." (Applause).

Twisted Cords

Running through the telephone cord are a number of delicate, flexible wires.

"Kinks" are formed when this cord is allowed to become twisted, and some of these wires may be bent or broken.

This means a "noisy" telephone line. You cannot hear or be heard as well. In fact, a twisted cord may cause a complete interruption of your service.

Keeping the telephone cord straight will give you greater satisfaction in the use of your telephone.

Governor Stephens Speaks at Fort Bragg Celebration

FORT BRAGG, Dec. 23—The laying of the corner stone of the Community Club building here Thursday afternoon aroused unusual interest, partly on account of the interest felt in this particular project and partly on account of the appearance of Governor Stephens who came from Sacramento to make the address. The corner stone was put in place by H. P. Preston and Charles Weller and Secretary Hunt of the Community Club. A tin box was sealed with the stone. In it was placed data concerning the building, a list of those who have worked to secure the structure, together with various coins. There was a very large gathering present, including many from neighboring towns. Mr. Peuhler, a representative of the National Y. M. C. A. was here as was also the architect and contractor. Following the laying of the corner stone, an adjournment was taken to Red Men's hall where Governor Stephens delivered a fine address.

The banquet room of Odd Fellows' hall was filled last night at a banquet at which Governor Stephens was the guest of honor.

Mr. W. G. Collins presided as toastmaster and spoke very entertainingly of matters pertaining to the Community Club building and the widespread interest that has been created in the enterprise of the citizens of Fort Bragg in making possible this splendid building, erected for the purpose of cultivating and fostering a higher moral and social atmosphere in this community and city.

Mr. Collins read a letter from Mr. C. R. Johnson expressing his regrets at his inability to attend the banquet and participate in the program, but reiterating his great interest in the undertaking and his congratulations to the various committees whose earnest and persistent efforts have made the consummation of the undertaking possible.

The toastmaster then presented Mr. H. P. Preston, chairman of the board of directors, who spoke very earnestly of the outline and detail of the work and bespoke for the enterprise the support of the citizens in its maintenaance.

The next speaker was Mr. J. K. Peirsol who reviewed briefly the history of Fort Bragg and its development from a small government post to the metropolis of the coast. Mr. Peirsol in his remarks paid high tribute to the enterprise of Mr. C. R. Johnson and his associates that has made this development possible.

Governor Stephens was then introduced and spoke very interestingly about the great state of California and some of the matters of especial moment that are and will be of vital importance to the citizens of this state and nation in their solution.

Owing to the Governor's having to depart on the 9 o'clock train, his entire speech was abbreviated. After his speech he expressed his desire to meet personally all present and an informal reception was held affording an opportunity for all to meet and shake hands with him.

During the banquet, delightful music was furnished by Professors Jousinen and O'Neil. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated in shrubbery appropriate to the occasion.—Beacon.

For the theater dinner party or any other place where splendor-loving women undertake to look their best, it is sure to triumph. Those two rivals in beautiful fabrics—crepe de chine and georgettes—have joined forces in this blouse. Imagine it in sapphire blue crepe de chine with beads in sapphire blue and steel and falling flounces on the sleeves made of black georgette similarly beaded.

J. J. Thornton was down from Potter valley last Wednesday on a short business visit.

The ladies of the Baptist church will hold a Cooked Food Sale in Isbell's Emporium on Saturday, Dec. 31st., beginning at ten a. m.

ALBION NOTES

ALBION, Dec. 25.—Gust Soderlund, employed in the mill here, suffered the misfortune of having his fingers badly smashed while at work Tuesday near the resaw. Two of the fingers were almost entirely severed, one at the first joint and the other between the first and second joints. He is being treated at the local hospital and is getting along finely although the injury is rather painful.

The Albion camps have closed for the holiday season and will resume operations about the 15th of January, weather permitting.

Sam Hunter of Point Arena narrowly averted what might have been a disastrous accident on the hill leading out on the south side of Albion last Wednesday evening. In ascending the grade at the steepest part he accidentally killed his engine and before he could properly apply his brakes his car had gained such momentum backwards that it could not be overcome. Realizing that to bank the machine would upset it, he took a chance on going over the grade. After passing the fence, he swung the machine around sideways and easily brought it to a stop, the soft ground preventing the machine from turning over. Harris Bros. easily pulled the machine onto the road again with their truck.

Old Doc Stork is just about as busy around here now as Santa Claus. He presented a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nelson last Monday morning. He again put in an appearance Thursday morning with a son for Mr. and Mrs. Mat Piper. Eeach time he appeared at the local hospital. Both mothers and babes are reported to be doing nicely.

Chas. Lawson, of Point Arena, was registered in town last Monday.

Mrs. Annie Babcock, of Willits, was renewing old acquaintances in Ukiah last Sunday.

C. A. Tarwater and wife, of Boonville, were in town the latter part of last week.

CANDY MANNERS.

Feast of nectar 'd sweets.—Milton.

IT IS a usual question for a young girl to write asking who should take the first piece of candy from a box brought to her by a young man caller. And when you come to think of it, there are a good many puzzling things involved in the problems connected with a box of candy.

To begin with, if a man brings a girl a box of candy, she usually opens it while he is present. She then passes it to any other women in the room, then to the man, and then she helps herself. If he, when she passes it, holds it for her to take a piece, she does so. If the candy comes by mail or messenger, she opens it, of course, and does not wait until he calls, even if she knows who the candy comes from before opening it, and knows likewise that the donor is to call.

Perhaps the most important thing to remember in connection with the good manners connected with candy is that the person who always greedily eats candy and never buys it is very ill bred. It is the week-end custom for some men to bring home a box of candy. In some families there is one candy-loving member who lies in wait for the weekly sweets and eats as many pieces as she can get. She takes one every time the box is passed, and perhaps helps herself between times.

Now it is quite all right to accept candy, if you like it, when it is passed. But you should not eat more than your share, and you should not eat even this much if you are not in the habit occasionally of standing treat yourself. You should, if you have a sweet tooth and eat other people's sweets, provide a box full of your own occasionally.

Candy is one of the gifts that a man may give a woman—candy, flowers and books constitute the conventional trio. Nobody wonders if the donor of a box of candy to a girl is thinking of falling in love with her. Candy nowadays is quite the correct and accepted gift from anybody that can afford it. And no girl need feel hesitant about accepting candy in this way. Of course, if she thinks a man cannot afford it, but buys it for her simply because he thinks he ought to, she might suggest to him that he really should not indulge her sweet tooth so often. And never, never should a girl hint for sweets. There are some girls who cannot pass a candy store window without casting longing glances at them, and sometimes even commenting on their fondness for candy. No man should feel rude in ignoring these symptoms.

It is not necessary to write a note thanking a man for a gift of candy if he follows the gift shortly with a call. The thanks should not be forgotten, but they may be delivered verbally. (Copyright.)

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs.

OUT OF THE ASHES.

OFF on the shell-torn fields of France,
Hard by a charred and shattered manse,
Up from the midst of ashen gloom
I saw a perfect rose in bloom,
And knew thereby that if from pain
The form of beauty may rise again
So too from sorrow deep may we
Emerge, and rise triumphantly.

FORT BRAGG NEWS NOTES

FORT BRAGG, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Messenger, wife of Rev. Messenger, who occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church when it was first opened here, died at her home in Alameda Friday. Deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. W. J. Welch, who passed away in Berkeley last Friday.

It is understood that Hugo Summerstrom of Oakland, purchaser of the gasoline launch Petrel which was deserted at Mendocino, has settled with the Mendocino Lumber Company for their salvage claims. He has also requested Deputy Sheriff Ward Reise to send in his bill.

Jim Manchester is making the bear fur fly on Ten Mile river. The latter part of last week he bagged two black bear, weighing 240 and 180 pounds each. Both were fat and in fine condition. Jim states that bear are plentiful along the river and expects to get several more. Jim's success accounts for the fact that choice bear steaks were sold at the Union Lumber Co. and Fort Bragg Markets.

Mrs. Mary Dorffi passed away at her home back of Noyo Monday forenoon from pneumonia.

She was a native of Finland, 75 years old, and had resided hereabouts for the past 38 years.

She is survived by two sons, Victor and Henry, and a daughter, Mrs. Jack Gamberg.

YOUNG COUPLE ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

One of the very happiest home affairs of the Xmas season was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. F. Pierce Stipp on Xmas day to members of the two families only. Their attractive and hospitable home on the Stipp ranch was a veritable bower of beauty, its decorations and beautifully illuminated tree all enhancing the Xmas spirit, the table decorations carrying out the same season's color sheme, with a huge turkey as the "piece de resistance."

Mr. and Mrs. Stipp are at their best in the role of host and hostess, and their gracious hospitality made the occasion a very happy one for those privileged to be present.

Donald and Harold Thompson are home from U. C. for the holiday.

NEWS NOTES FROM COVELO

COVELO, Dec. 28.—The Union Christmas tree held at the Presbyterian church was well attended in spite of the inclemency of the weather.

The program was well rendered by the scholars of the Sunday schools. The selection of songs was unusually fine. The Christmas cantata was very touching and beautiful. The three leading characters were Naomi Rhodes, the mother, Harold Long, father, and Pauline English, their child. Little Pauline was so natural in all she did and sang so sweetly that all hearts were touched with the sweet Christmas story. The other parts were well sustained by a number of our young girls. There was also another little play, "The Xmas Cupboard," by the primary class. The children did exceedingly well. Little Florence Gray one who took the part of "Dame Christmas," was well suited to the character.

The contents of the Xmas cupboard, consisting of groceries, provisions, vegetables and other articles were presented to Rev. Ford and family.

This part of the program was rather in the nature of a surprise and for once really proved a genuine surprise. From the way the congregation applauded it was evident they approved of the disposal of the cupboard.

In order to stimmulate and promote higher ideals among the young men and boys of the community, and to provide for them innocent pastime, wholesome recreation and other helpful privileges, it is proposed to organize what shall be known as a Community Club, in which the men and boys of Round Valley shall be entitled to membership. The organization is to have a central meeting place wherein meetings shall be held several nights each week during a period of six months, and beginning with November of each year. A dinner will be given by those interested in the organization of a Community Club Thursday evening, December 29, at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist church. It is hoped at this meeting it may be possible to formally organize the club, adopt a constitution and elect officers.

One of State's Big Men is Senator Sanford

By ED. E. LEAKE, in Woodland Democrat.

J. B. Sanford's successor as register of the United States Land office, San Francisco, has been nominated and confirmed, and possibly before this appears in print, he will have retired to private life and resumed his duties as editor of one of the few live Democratic newspapers published in California, the Ukiah Dispatch-Democrat.

Mr. Sanford is affectionately called by his political associates, an "old warhorse of Democracy." The term is calculated to convey an erroneous impression to those who do not know him personally. He is a warhorse, all right, but only 52 years of age, and is a man of such sterling ability and high character that his constituents have kept him in the public service for just half his lifetime.

LAND RULINGS SUSTAINED.

For eighteen years he was a member of the state legislature, where he was recognized as a lawmaker of unfaltering integrity and unusual ability. For eight years he has filled the office of Register of the land office and in that capacity has been called upon to adjudicate most of the advanced land laws enacted by the Wilson administration. In every instance he was upheld by the Department.

Mr. Sanford plans to rest a little while, but he is such an uncompromising Democrat and so fearless in the advocacy of the principles of Democracy that it is a safe prediction that he will, with both pen and voice, embrace the first opportunity to resume the arduous duties as an apostle of his political faith. As such he is capable of wielding great influence and power.

ACTIVE IN DEMOCRACY.

Mr. Sanford's political career has been both clean and brilliant. He has been both editor and proprietor of the Dispatch-Democrat for twenty-four years. Six years in the assembly and twelve years in the senate enabled him to write many of the laws of California. He was a delegate to the Democratic National convention at Baltimore in 1912 and at St. Louis in 1904. He was Democratic National committeeman for California from 1912 to 1916. He has presided at Democratic state conventions and has been chairman of the executive state committee. He organized the Democratic Press League of California in 1898, and was its first president.

ORIGINAL JAP OUSTER.

It is refreshing to recall that the Mendocino man was the author of the first anti-alien land law introduced in the California senate. As the original anti-Jap lawmaker, he fought vigorously and consistently through several sessions for the adoption of his bill, and the Democratic leaders of the state were disappointed three different times when Senator Sanford refused the gubernatorial nomination in order to go back to the senate and force through his anti-Jap legislation.

Upon entering the legislature he was its youngest member; when he left he was hailed as the oldest veteran from point of service. Political writers refred to him fondly as "The Gray Eagle of Mendocino."

Mr. Sanford has been mentioned as an available candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket. We do not know what are his wishes in the matter, but he would make a great race and in the event that he should overcome the overwhelming Republican majority in the state he would give us an administration that would be the crowning glory of his honorable career.

Coast Pioneer of 1855 Answers Death's Summons

FORT BRAGG, Dec. 28.—Americus D. Le Ballister, early day mill operator and one of the builders of the first sailing vessel to be constucted on the Mendocino coast, died Friday in Alameda, following a long period of failing health.

Deceased came to this coast 66 years ago, residing the greater part of the time at Russian Gulch, up to four years ago, when he moved to Alameda. He was 84 years old.

Deceased was associated with his father, Wm. Le Ballister, and brother, Jim Le Ballister, in the lumbering and shipping business on this coast in the early days.

They were the first to operate at Albion, putting in a mill of 20,000 feet capacity per day which was driven by a water wheel. The lumber was floated out of the river and loaded onto a vessel moored in the harbor.

The three later put in a similar mill at Russian Gulch and at that place built the first vessel to be constructed on the coast. It was a three-masted schooner.

Tom Peterson, who afterwards built vessels at Littleriver, was head carpenter.

Having just got a good start, they met with a sudden reverse when a big storm wrecked their schooner which was loading in Noyo harbor. A flash of lightning during this same storm set fire to their mill which burned down.

Shortly afterwards Mr. Le Ballister, Sr., was hurt in a stage accident, passing away in San Francisco.

The sails and rigging from the wrecked vessel were savel and used on the three-masted schooner James Townsend which was built at Noyo shortly after.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon and the remains will be laid to rest in Mendocino.

Deceased is survived by two half brothers, Dave of Fort Bragg, and Tom of Alameda, and a half sister, Maryetta Griffith.

COAST PIONEER WOMAN ANSWERS LAST CALL

ELK, Dec. 23.—A great number of old coasters will be deeply grieved to learn of the death in San Francisco of Mrs. Mary Forsberg Peterson. Deceased was a coast pioneer, having been the widow of the first blacksmith to locate and engage in that calling here. She was also the only sister of the late Louis Forsberg, for many years proprietor of the Union hotel of this place. Word of her passing was received here yesterday by Mrs. C. J. Buchanan, jr., a niece. The husband, Louis Peterson, passed away and was buried in Fort Bragg about nine years ago. The remains will be brought to Fort Bragg and will arrive there Saturday morning when they will be laid away beside those of her husband.

There remain to mourn her loss, one daughter, Miss Amy Peterson, now a resident of San Francisco, and a niece, Mrs. C. J. Buchanan, Jr., of Elk.—Beacon.

Mrs. Will Owsley spent the week-end visiting her daughter in Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Rasmussen and son, of Comptche, passed through Ukiah the latter part of last week on a motor trip to Sacramento, where they are spending the holidays with relatives.

REDWOOD VALLEY NEWS NOTES

REDWOOOD VALLEY, Dec. 28.—The Xmas tree at the Grange hall Saturday night was a splendid success. Some 250 persons were present and enjoyed an excellent program. The principal feature of the program was an Xmas cantata in which numerous children and grown ups, too, were participants. Both the drills and music were very pretty.

Collie McDonald made a realistic Santa Claus. Mrs. Kinsler donated a big lot of whistles and rattles to the kiddies. Everyone present received a bag of candy and nuts and there was a profusion of oranges and apples. Two boxes of apples were donated by Grover Williams. They were certainly fine specimens.

Mrs. Ed. Austin and Mrs. C. M. McDonald deserved great praise for drilling the children. Collie McDonald worked very hard building the stage, preparing the Yule log, decorating, etc. Among others who worked hard to make the Xmas tree a success were Mrs. Nels Nelson, Mrs. Tom Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Page, Mrs. A. C. Richards, Charley Tull, Mrs. A. N. Kinsler, Miss Leverne Kistler, Miss Lucille Bednar, and children too numerous to mention.

The next social will be held at the club house January 23 with Mrs. Nels Nelson as chairman.

The Grange has recently erected a commodious stage in their hall. The lumber for the structure was sawed by Wilbourn Bros. our local millmen, who are turning out lumber of good quality at a very moderate price. Mrs. Kinsler donated curtains for the new stage.

An Xmas baby, a fine ten lb. boy, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Riggs. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Joslin brought Mrs. Lucille Hull home from the Langland hospital last Saturday. Mrs. Hull has been in a very critical condition but we are glad to state that she is steadily improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barker left in their new Ford last week for a visit with relatives and friends around the bay.

It is reported that the L. Blitz property, better known as the Geo. King place, has been sold.

There will be a card and watch party at the Grange hall New Year's eve.

The local postoffice force was almost swamped with Xmas packages the latter part of last week. On Saturday the mail clerks told us we had more mail than Ukiah.

Irwin Jones came up from San Francisco to spend Xmas with relatives and friends here.

Besmer DeVee is spending the holidays with relatives and friends in the bay cities.

Sam Williams recently made a business trip to San Francisco. While there he purchased a Ford with a delivery bed which he drove home.

Howard Davis ate Xmas dinner at the Goudge home.

Mrs. A. R. Sprague arrived on the 11 o'clock train Xmas eve and spent a few days with her relatives here.

Samuel Sorensen returned Wednesday from a week's visit with his children in the bay cities.

Mrs. L. O. Sallady and daughter, Irma, left Thursday morning on a trip to southern California, visiting in Los Angeles and San Diego.
